

AMINO TREATMENT®

AMINO TREATMENT

After many years of research, with Amino Treatment House & Garden sets off nothing less than a sensation worldwide.

Amino Treatment is a new, revolutionary product that brings a noticeably higher fruit yield, with regard to quality as well as to quantity.

The product consists of a balanced complex of ingredients such as small silicate particles which are far much smaller than those which you find in normal silicon. Amino treatment also contains a unique natural growth and flowering stimulator from an extract taken from plant seeds.

Plants always add a buffer to their seeds, a kind of plant base with high-quality enzymes and amino acids which stimulate root development, growth and fruit formation in a powerful way.

So, the use of Amino Treatment results in better nutrient distribution in the leaves, a higher photosynthesis ratio, stronger stalks, increased root activity, better and higher fruit production and a higher sugar content in the fruit. See it and believe it!!! AMINO TREATMENT for profuse growth and flowering!
